Where We Are: Employment and Continuing Education

Currently, our team is continuing outreach efforts to survey the Class of 2022. In capturing a snapshot of the graduating class by September 1, merely 97 days post graduation, we'll be able to better benchmark and understand our student outcomes. Furthermore, we'll be able to translate the impact of our work as a career services team, in helping all students explore, grow, experience, and launch their future.

HANOVERIAN SPOTLIGHT

Zach shared, "From the moment I joined Phi Delta Theta at Hanover, I knew I wanted to find a way to help the chapter grow and prosper." Zach was very involved with his fraternity and was encouraged, by staff and faculty members, to consider working for Phi Delta Theta General Headquarters.

Zach was hesitant to apply without a specific career goal. However, after going through the interviews, Zach was super-hyped when he received an offer.

Zach says, "Through connections I had built up over my four years at Hanover, I found a job I wasn't even looking for."

The best part of his job is working with dedicated colleagues who make the Fraternity experience the best it can be for its undergraduate and alumni members. Zach credits the community aspect of Hanover with influencing his job choice.

"We were a community first, and at the end of the day, it didn't matter if someone was different from you because we could all accept each other for who we were."

Zach has lots of advice for those looking for jobs and those rising-graduates. "Start looking and applying early. Your happiness should be important when looking for a job, the money not as much. Get a feel for the workplace atmosphere and ask honest questions during your interviews. If you meet someone from that company, ask them what they like and dislike about the company. Also, do not be afraid to be a little different. The world has a lot of people applying for similar roles. What sets you apart? What makes you stand out to the employer? Your differences make the difference. Lastly, talk to anyone and everyone because you never know who you might network with that could change your life and help you discover something you had never considered."
